

Tango Colorado

Tango Colorado Picnic and Milonga

Sunday, May 29, 2011

5PM to 9PM

Historic Carousel at Old Elitch Gardens

3755 Tennyson Street

Denver, CO 80212

DJ: Martin Rybczynski

Requested Donation - $20*

The space is still outdoors, in a covered structure that, in spite of appearances is actually larger than the Cheesman Pavilion. From a distance it looks like it's circular in shape, but it actually has 12 sides - a dodecagon - and the floor is concrete. Half the radius of the dodecagon is polished and the outer half is not; all of the concrete is in good shape. Because of the unpolished "half", we're suggesting you not bring your fancy shoes, but instead bring some that are more appropriate for "street tango".

You can still see the mountains, and the sunset, and parking should be a little easier and closer than at Cheesman. The Carousel is in a small park setting within a mixed use residential and commercial neighborhood.

For more information, visit TangoColorado.org.

* Admission is included with most Festival passes

Tango Colorado

Tango Colorado Picnic and Milonga

Sunday, May 29, 2011

5PM to 9PM

Historic Carousel at Old Elitch Gardens

3755 Tennyson Street

Denver, CO 80212

DJ: Martin Rybczynski

Requested Donation - $20*

The space is still outdoors, in a covered structure that, in spite of appearances is actually larger than the Cheesman Pavilion. From a distance it looks like it's circular in shape, but it actually has 12 sides - a dodecagon - and the floor is concrete. Half the radius of the dodecagon is polished and the outer half is not; all of the concrete is in good shape. Because of the unpolished "half", we're suggesting you not bring your fancy shoes, but instead bring some that are more appropriate for "street tango".

You can still see the mountains, and the sunset, and parking should be a little easier and closer than at Cheesman. The Carousel is in a small park setting within a mixed use residential and commercial neighborhood.

For more information, visit TangoColorado.org.

* Admission is included with most Festival passes